

Welcome to the next evolution in Empty Leg Booking.

Who knows where your clients will be when they decide they need an empty leg, a limo in L.A., a spa in Malé, a five-star hotel in V arrondissement, or a balcony on the Upper East Side. With Empty Leg App for iPhone it doesn't matter. You can serve them wherever they are, whenever they want.

Empty Leg App puts thousands of Empty Legs right at your clients' fingertips in real-time, so no matter what time it is where they are they can search and request empty legs from you.

The app pulls empty legs straight from our Marketplace and puts them in your customers' hands without any input from you. Market your fleet's empty legs, your partners' empty legs or all empty legs in the system, it's up to you.

Empty Leg app's easy-to-use interface is fully customizable so it blends seamlessly with your company's look and style, making it the quick and easy way to generate leads from all over the world around the clock.

Europe's first empty leg app!

Marcel Wepfer, Director of Sales & Marketing

The First Empty Leg App in Europe is Here!

One week ago Empty Leg App made it's European debut with the release of Premium Jet App in iTunes. We caught up with Marcel Wepfer, Director of Sales and Marketing for Premium Jet, to find out more about why they decided to take the smartphone app plunge with us.

Q. What made you decide to try Empty Leg App?

A. We are always looking for new solutions to promote our services so when we heard about the new Empty Leg App it was already clear that we were going to be on the front line of this new technology.

Q. What kind of response have you seen so far?

A. The app has been online since last Thursday so we haven't started seeing a direct response yet, but the pre-release response has been very positive. Everyone who's had the chance to see or use the app likes it very much.

Q. What are you hoping to see from the App and from Avinode in the future?

A. We would really like to see a booking app for customers that incorporates normal charter flights, in addition to empty legs, so that our clients can find everything they need right on their phone.

Thank you to Marcel and Premium Jet for taking the time to speak with us. We wish them the best of luck with their new app.

...and we are pleased to be able to reveal that their wish will soon be granted, read more below in "Coming this Spring!"

Coming this Spring!

While I'm not allowed to reveal all of the details yet, I can say that sometime this spring we will be launching the next incarnation of our revolutionary booking app. With this upgrade your clients will have access to the best features of our popular Broker, Operator and Empty Leg Links right from their iPhone.
